Tools:
- Personal die-cut machine or craft knife
- Craft scissors
- Hot glue gun and glue stick(s)

Instructions

1. Remove glass and backing materials from all frames.
2. Spray paint frames with Krylon Make it Stone! in Black Granite; allow to dry completely.
3. To cut stencils, use a personal die-cut machine to cut each of the words “Trick”, “or”, and “Treat” from the center of an 8”x10” piece of adhesive-backed vinyl. If you don’t have a die-cut machine, trace letters onto vinyl and cut out with a craft knife. Remove each of the words from the vinyl rectangles, creating stencils.
4. Position and adhere stencils on center of glass with the stencil for “or” on the 5”x7” glass and the words “Trick” and “Treat” on the 8”x10” sheets of glass.
5. Spray paint each stenciled glass with a different color of Krylon ColorMaster Paint + Primer. Carefully remove stencils while last coat of paint is not quite dry. Note: If paint is allowed to dry completely before removing stencil the letter will lift off of the glass surface.
6. With paint pens, on the backside of the glass, draw a spider’s web on a corner of the top glass and extend the web onto the lower sections of glass. Draw a spider on the lower glass section, as detailed in project photo.
7. Insert glass back into frames leaving out all other backing materials; bend framing clips back onto glass to secure in place. If necessary to secure glass, add beads of hot glue around glass on the back of frame assuring it can not be seen from the front.
8. Lay frames upside down on flat surface. Position frames with a 1” gap between them. Cut black grosgrain ribbon into 4” pieces. Using a hot glue gun, adhere ribbon to backside of frames sections, linking them together.
9. From the decorative ribbon, cut an 18” length. Hot glue ends of ribbon to top corners of top frame creating a loop. With remaining ribbon, tie a bow around center of the loop.

3. Spray paint primed frames with Krylon ColorMaster Paint + Primer Gloss Ivy Leaf, on all sides.

Sewing side of screen:
1. Spray paint one hardboard panel with Krylon Chalkboard Paint. Condition as indicated by manufacturer's instructions. Set panel aside.
2. Cut 2 pieces of batting to the same size of hardboard panels. Use hot glue to adhere batting to front side of two panels.
3. For the French style bulletin board panel, cut canvas the height of the panel plus 6" x the width of the panel plus 6". Lay canvas over batting, adhere in place by wrapping to backside and securing with hot glue. (note: make sure canvas is stretched taut across front of panel) Set panel aside.
4. For the pleated pocket panel, cut canvas panel 10' x width of the panels plus 6".

Fold that crease up to the 9" mark. From the top of the first pocket, measure down 13 1/2" and fold up to create a 4" pocket. Continue down the panel, measuring and creasing until you have 6-9 pockets, leaving the bottom 18" without pockets.

9. With dry iron, press stencils in place on panels. Protect all areas not to be painted with masking paper and tape.
10. Spray paint stencils with Krylon ColorMaster Paint + Primer Satin Leather Brown; allow to dry. Lay the three panels side by side, leaving the same space between them as the frame will make. Draw thread on spool, across panels and through needle with Short Cuts Paint Pens in Black and White.
11. To finish the French bulletin board panel, lightly mark with pencil 9" increments down both sides. Criss-Cross lengths of ribbon from each of these marks; pin to secure. Trim ribbon, leaving 2" to wrap to the backside of panel. Flip whole panel over and secure ends of ribbon with hot glue.
12. Secure panels into their section of the frame with hot-glue on the backside of panel.

Decor side of screen:
1. Cut Kraft paper to the inside measurement of the screen frames.
2. With freezer paper and personal die-cut machine, cut large letters in desired font to use as stencils on the three panels.
4. Lightly spray panels with Krylon ColorMaster Paint + Primer Satin White; allow to dry, remove stencils.
6. Panels in frames with small spots hot glue around the edges.
7. For a finishing touch, hot glue decorative braid around the kraft paper panels on the inside of the frames.

- 18 wooden dowels of 0.47 cm thickness and 30" long
- 6 wooden dowels of 0.3 cm thickness and 30" long
- 48 small craft mirrors of varied sizes (I used 1", 0.5" and 0.25")
- 9" round candle mirror
- 8" round thin wooden board (to be used as a template)
- 3 pencils or pens
- Ruler
- Drop cloth
- Hot glue gun and glue sticks
- Saw tooth knife
- Saw tooth hanger
- Wall nail and hammer
1. Set up a spray area by covering your work area with a drop cloth. Make sure it is a well-ventilated area.
2. Using the saw tooth knife, cut 12 wooden dowel pieces of 0.47 cm thickness at 14” long each.
3. Cut additional 24 wooden dowel pieces of 0.47 cm thickness at 13” long each.
4. Cut 12 wooden dowel pieces of 0.3 cm thickness at 11” long each.
5. Tape the 8” circle template to the center of your project space. Mark lines on a wooden board by extending the lines from the template using a pencil and ruler.
6. Arrange the 14” long cut wooden dowels, 13” dowels and the 11” dowels one by one, using hot glue to create a pattern around the circle template.
7. Hold the can of Krylon ColorMaster Paint + Primer – Gloss Equestrian 6-8 inches from the surface, painting your board by using a sweeping side-to-side motion with a slight overlap. Repeat this step until you obtain your desired color. Allow 10 minutes to dry.
8. Once this is dry, apply hot glue around the inner edge of the dowels and place the 9” candle mirror on top.
9. Position the small mirrors on the dowels randomly according to your desired taste. Once you decide on a pattern for the mirrors, hot glue them to the dowels one by one.
10. Add a saw tooth hanger to the backside of the wooden board and hammer very gently. Add a nail or two to your wall to hang the star burst mirror.

Clay Pot Wind Chime

BY VICKI O’DELL OF THE CREATIVE GODDESS

Making your own set of wind chimes is quite easy. With just a few materials and a little imagination, you can enjoy the glorious sounds of this project. The gentle music they create in the breeze will provide a feeling of tranquility in your patio, garden or balcony.

Instructions

1. Cover your work area with newspaper and make sure you are in a well-ventilated space.

2. Gather your five clay pots. Hold the can of Krylon Dual Superbond Paint + Primer in a color of your choice 6-8 inches from the clay pot, painting each one by using a sweeping side-to-side motion with slight overlap. Repeat this step until you obtain your desired color. Allow 10 hours for the paint to dry completely.

3. Decorate your pots with the paint pens. Follow the instructions for your paint pens to allow for adequate time to dry.

4. When your pots are decorated and dry, cut 3-4 feet of macramé cord and double. Tie a knot 3-4 inches from the doubled end in order to create a hanging loop. You may wish to wrap some clear tape around the ends to keep them from unraveling as you work.

5. Add a clay pot to the macramé cord by pushing the cording through the hole in the bottom of the pot. The pot will hang upside down. Tie another knot in the cord so that the knot is just slightly inside the pot. The pot will rest on the knot.

6. Continue attaching your clay pots with knots in the same manner, making sure the bottom of the pot is just slightly inside the previous one, until the desired length is reached.

7. Tie a knot inside the final pot and allow 3-5 inches of macramé cord to hang down.

8. Either fray the cord or tie a knot in each end.
